HOME ASSOCIATION MASONIC TEMPLE

TWO HUNDRED OR MORE SIT DOWN TO FINE BANQUET—
LISTEN TO GOOD TALKS
BY LOCAL SPEAKERS.

The Ypsilanti Home association held its annual business meeting and banquet Tuesday afternoon and evening in the Masonic temple. The secretary, Miss Nellie Trim, stated in her report that the membership roll is now 318. There are 265 ladies and 35 men and 18 honorary members. The average attendance at the monthly meetings has been 15. The penny flower fund collected during the year amounted to $37.70. Money distributed to the worthy poor during the past year amounted to $933.51 and clothing distributed valued at $1,407.15. This total is over $200 more than was distributed last year. She read the names of all the donors. She told how the association aims to create a higher standard of living in all the homes helped, and it is kindness of heart that prompts the work; and some day we will come to find the greatest man is the one who's kind.

The treasurer, Mrs. F. M. Beall, reported that the association had received during the past year $1,079.17 and paid out during that time $933.51, leaving a balance on hand of $145.66.

The president, Mrs. S. W. Parsons, in her address, said that the last two charter members of the organization had just passed away: Mrs. Charles Champion died in March in New York, and Mrs. Charles Pattison died in April in Florida. For 65 years the Home association has been doing its splendid work of helping the worthy poor of the city. It is the oldest organization of women in Ypsilanti except the churches. At first it was literary and social, and did missionary work, such as supporting certain homes for the aged and hospitals. It used to meet in private homes, but now only three places will accommodate the members at the annual meeting—the Presbyterian and Methodist churches and the Masonic temple. She told about the different cases that have been helped by the association and closed with a story about the unworthy poor.

Mrs. Robert Campbell sang a song, entitled "Leave It to Him." Miss Ruth Luscombe sang a song, entitled "Pale Moon," and Robert Luscombe sang a group of songs, "Vouth" and "Sylvia." Miss Florence Gee played a violin solo, entitled "The Violin Maker of Cremona."

The endowment fund of the association was reported as being $2,700.

The banquet was held in the evening and was largely attended. John F. McCann presided as toastmaster. In a brief speech he said the Ypsilanti Home association was one of the unique organizations of the state. We can be charitable with our tongues, our eyes and our minds as well as with our purse, he said. We should not let our zeal for charity override our zeal for tolerance. We should all beware of allowing ourselves to become intolerant, he concluded.

Prof. J. Stuart Lathers, of the Normal college, took for his toast the following: "Both minds and fountain pens will work when filled, but minds, like fountain pens, must first be filled." The Ypsilanti Home association is notable in the whole state of Michigan, Mr. Lathers stated. It is unique in that all of the churches of the city are trying to carry out the doctrine of good will and charity according to Christ's commands. We should see to it that the minds of our children are filled with good and noble things. Parents sometimes make the mistake of turning over to the school teacher their duty to train the children. Children should be surrounded with pleasant things. One problem confronting us is that so many children now do not have real minds. There is a class that have large families whose minds are weak and whose children are unable to comprehend the big things in life.

Prof. J. M. Hover spoke on "Enduring Investments." He said: "Farmers invest in lightning rods and school teachers in city lots. Today man is thinking of broader investments; those that mean much to the community. Human society is not interested in speculation but in safe investments in health and happiness. Too many people waste and squander their resources. Fifty per cent of the people are dependent when old age is reached. Our nation has secured the friendship of nearly all other nations. The greatest investment was the one made by Jesus Christ, the Great Teacher, who made the greatest investment in all history by giving His life for mankind."

Miss Grace Fuller, formerly dean of women at the Normal here, spoke on "What the Lord Rewards is Work, Not Success." She told a story of a boy in prison who refused to tell a lie to gain his freedom, and who was later given his freedom for his honesty.

Rev. Clarence S. Burns, pastor of the First Baptist church here, spoke on "Half Trying the Secret of Many a Failure." He said: "France failed to build the Panama canal because the mosquitoes got the men. America put it across because she took measures to fight the mos-

PREACHING A SERIES OF SERMONS.

Rev. Dunning Idle began a series of sermons for young people last Sunday evening in the M. E. church entitled "Get Ready for the June Wedding March." On May 7 his subject was "A Popular Ship—Courtship." On May 14 it will be "Mated, Choosing Wisely," on May 21, "The Marriage Vow," and on May 28, "The New Home."

COUNTY FEDERATION OF WOMAN'S CLUBS

The County Federation of Woman's clubs will meet in Milan this week Friday. The session will open at 10 a. m. One of the special features of this meeting will be the forming of a women's congress for the Washtenaw county fair.

Mrs. Emma Koon-Stock, of Hillsdale, president of the board of women's commissions of Hillsdale college, will be present and give a talk on the subject, "Real Enthusiasm and Facts." Mrs. Stock has been identified with the women's congress of the Hillsdale fair for the past 25 years.

BOOSTERS' BANQUET HELD AT ANN ARBOR

Monday evening about 50 were present from different parts of the county to a boosters' banquet held at the Chamber of Commerce inn at Ann Arbor. The meeting was called by the officers of the Washtenaw County Fair association.

H. H. Halliday, secretary of the M. A. C. and state commissioner of fairs, was present and gave the principal address. Short talks were also made by President Hutzel and Manager Martin of the fair association, and Ray Dolph, secretary of the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce; E. O. Loveland, of Milan; C. D. Finkbeiner, Arthur Lutz, of Saline, and C. W. Klamser, of Chelsea.

In the afternoon Mr. Halliday was taken to the new fair grounds and pronounced them the finest in the state for their natural beauty. He was also much impressed with the work already done and predicted for the association a fine fair this fall.

BREAD CASE ADJOURNED UNTIL FRIDAY, MAY 18

The case of the city vs. Wm. M. Jacobson was tried Thursday of last week before Justice Stadtmiller without a jury. City Attorney John P. Kirk had Harry Sutherland and A. E. House testify for the city. They stated that the defendant, Jacobson, did not take any orders, but left bread each day in quantities that he thought the grocers would sell.

Attorney Williams, of Detroit, representing the Cable Draper company, moved to have the case quashed on the ground that the ordinance was unconstitutional and that the license fee was prohibitive. The attorneys agreed to file law briefs showing their contention, and the case was continued until May 18, at which time the defendant is to appear in court and a decision will be given.

WILL HEAR CASE TODAY.

A case of more than usual interest will be tried before Justice Curtis and a jury on May 11. The case is one where Emerson Foerster sued his father-in-law, Walter Walters. The dispute arose over the terms of a written lease.

THIEVES STEAL CHICKENS AND TIRES.

Mrs. H. L. Dolby stated Tuesday that they had over $50 worth of chickens and five automobile tires stolen recently. A number of a car seen in the vicinity of the Dolby farm was given to Deputy Sheriff Dick Elliott, who made an investigation and decided that the owner of the car had not taken the chickens or tires. There is no other clue.

quites. She tried with all her resources and won. The recent inter-church movement failed because only a half try was made. Besides the half tries there are side steps, who talk long and loud but who melt away when the work starts. Then there are quitters. Elijah and Jonah were quitters. The Home association is dealing with human lives. Instead of throwing the lives in the garbage or dump, as we do our material refuse, the Home association is reclaiming these lives and making good citizens out of many who have become poor through no fault of their own."

Rev. S. Dunning Idle, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, spoke on "Community Weight." He said: "You cannot tell much about what a man is worth by his size, form or weight. Napoleon, Paul the Apostle and John Wesley were small men but they did big things. The Home association weighs heavy in this community and is doing big things. I would much rather work with an optimist than a pessimist. Blessed is the optimist. He can always see a problem and then can see a way to solve it."

CHIEF CONNORS NABS PROWLER

CAPTURED AFTER HOT CHASE
TUESDAY NIGHT NEAR NORMAL STREET.

Between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock Tuesday night residents in the vicinity of College place and Normal street were suddenly awakened from their slumbers by a volley of shots. Next morning it was learned that Chief Connors had bagged Samuel Richardson.

A call was sent in from College place that a man was seen peering in windows and prowling around houses in that vicinity. Connors immediately went to this neighborhood and soon located his man, who on finding that he was discovered started to run. Connors gave chase and called on him to halt. This, however, only spurred him on to greater speed and the chief emptied his revolver, firing in the air. He finally took Richardson in the rear of E. C. Bartlett's home, 206 Normal street, where the arrest was made.

Richardson was landed in jail and Wednesday morning was arraigned before Justice Stadtmiller on a charge of disorderly conduct. To this charge he pleaded not guilty and was bound over for trial next Wednesday, May 17. His bail was fixed at $100, which he furnished.

For the past week several reports have come in to the police that a man was seen in different parts of the city prowling around and in other ways acting suspicious. A call was sent in Monday night from South Huron street.

ROTARY HEAR WILBUR AND ECKLEY MONDAY

At the Rotary luncheon Monday, in the absence of Superintendent Johnson, who was on the program for an address, Prof. H. Z. Wilbur gave a vocational talk. He told of his work at the Normal and said it took approximately 4,000 teachers to supply the state each year; that teachers averaged about six years at the work; there are about 25,000 teachers in the state, and that means that every year 4,000 new teachers have to be fitted and ready to take up the work. He told of how the Normal was taking the work to the districts where it was impossible to attend the Normal and that there were enrolled 1,300 in correspondence work outside the college.

Olin C. Eckley gave a talk on his life and from the way he put it we are led to believe that he had some time in raising himself. We'll say he is there when it comes to biographies. Both talks were good and thoroughly enjoyed by the members.

A patriotic meeting is being planned for May 29.

YPSILANTI GRANGE HOST TO WILLIS GRANGE

Ypsilanti Grange had as its guest Saturday Fraternity Grange, of Willis. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. D. V. Harris, 21 North Adams street. There were about 75 present.

Members of the visiting grange carried out the program for the day. Those contributing were Mrs. Jennings Campbell, Miss Swaninger and Mrs. Mary Potter. A male quartet, composed of Messrs. Garrod, Thompson, Wright and Lamkin, sang. Whether or not the government should accept Henry Ford's Muscle Shoals offer was the subject of a debate. This discussion was led by Willis Derbyshire, Joseph Parlor, Oscar Smith and Fred Garrod.

Arrangements were made for the boys' and girls' camping week at Pleasant Lake and it was announced by Mr. English that Bran-walpole would be on hand to assist Orville Laidlaw as director of the boys' camp. It is expected that in the neighborhood of 40 boys will be at the camp this year.

Ypsilanti Grange furnished the supper.

VISIT WYANDOTTE.

Wednesday Olin C. Eckley, secretary of the Board of Commerce, and Prof. D. H. Roberts, chairman of the hotel building committee, went to Wyandotte to explain to the Board of Commerce of that city the method used by Ypsilanti in soliciting funds for a hotel.

LOCAL SCHOOL HOLD CONTEST

IN BETTER AMERICAN CITI-ZENSHIP AS PLANNED BY
KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS
OF AMERICA.

In these days of unrest every good citizen will welcome any plan that will arouse a greater interest in America and help to make this the ideal land as well as the land of ideals. The ordinary man or woman does not take sufficient interest in the affairs of our city, state and country. We are all stockholders in a great corporation—the greatest in the world—and we ought to evince more interest in the conduct of the city, state and national affairs than we do.

Realizing this to be true, the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, has arranged for contests to be held in all junior and senior high schools in the state on the subject of "American Citizenship, Its Aims, Ideals and Responsibilities." Students in our junior and senior high schools will be asked to write essays on the above topic. The best paper submitted will be forwarded to the grand lodge and will be passed upon by judges chosen by Superintendent of Public Instruction T. E. Johnson, who has given this movement his hearty endorsement. The judges will select the two best papers. The writers of these will be invited to attend the session of the grand lodge of Knights of Pythias in Charlevoix the first week in September and give their papers before that body. They will have all expenses paid and in addition will be awarded beautiful trophies by the grand lodge. In addition the two in our local schools who are selected by judges to be appointed by the superintendent will receive a beautiful silver medal for the first prize and a duplicate in bronze for the second prize.

Queen City lodge, No. 167, Knights of Pythias, of Ypsilanti is "fathering" the contest in this city and will present the two prizes to be awarded to local contestants. With this incentive and the added possibility of a free trip to Charlevoix, the beautiful, the leading summer resort of our state, at the expense of the grand lodge, it is certain that our high school students will exert themselves to the utmost; and aside from the satisfaction of winning this contest will result in much benefit to the students who participate and to all of us who may find it possible to attend the exercises, if such are to be public, which we trust will be the case.

The prize-winning papers will be printed in the Michigan Pythian, the official paper of the Knights of Pythias, and will be read with interest by the 30,000 members in Michigan. Superintendent of Schools Erickson and Roberts and High School Principals Grimes and Fuller are also to be commended for staging these contests in our city, and following the recommendation of the superintendent of public instruction, who has given it such a hearty endorsement.

Queen City lodge has generously provided two sets of medals, one for each of the high schools in the city. The medals are already here and will be placed on exhibition this week.

NEXT SUNDAY WILL BE MOTHER'S DAY HERE

Governor Groesbeck has set aside next Sunday, May 14, as Mothers' day and asks that the people of the state of Michigan observe this day by attending church; also that sons and daughters take this occasion to visit the mothers in the old home, or where such a visit is impossible to send a message of cheer and greeting.

In the proclamation a further request is made that the United States flag be displayed in the homes and other suitable places as a fitting expression of the desire to pay homage to American motherhood.

The churches of Ypsilanti will hold appropriate services and all are urged to attend their respective places of worship.

WILL CELEBRATE MOTHER'S DAY.

The Catholic Woman's club will have a Mothers' and Daughters' day Thursday afternoon, May 11, at St. John's clubhouse, when each member will bring a daughter or daughters as guests. The entertainment will be in charge of the program committee, Miss Mary McDermott, Miss Florence Kelly, Mrs. Alec Nulan and Mrs. Roy Whiting.

TO TAKE PART IN PAGEANT.

Queen City hive No. 64, Lady Macabees, held an adjourned meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. There were two groups from this hive taking part in the pageant in Ann Arbor May 16. One will be a group of Indians and the other will represent a group of states. The pageant will be given by all the hives in the county taking part and will be under the direction of Mrs. Harriet Williamson, of Grand Rapids.

ATTEND CONVENTION IN DE- TROIT.

Mrs. Lillian Root, Mrs. Frank Minniss and Mrs. R. G. Gauntlett have returned from Detroit, where they attended the sessions of the state convention of the Child Conservation League of America. On the closing day a supper was enjoyed at the Detroit Yacht club and the last session held in an open air pavilion at Belle Isle.

DISTRICT CONVENTION OF PYTHIAN SISTERS

Today, Thursday, a district convention of the Pythian Sisters is being held in this city at the K. P. hall, commencing at 10 o'clock. At noon a dinner will be served at the Methodist church.

A fine program will be given in the afternoon, consisting of an address by a grand officer and several musical numbers. The initiatory work will be put on by past chiefs of Ypsilanti Pythian Sisters.

A large number of delegates are present from the different lodges in this district.

PROF. JOHN NICHOLSON TALKS AUTO TO KIWANIS

Prof. John Nicholson, of the engineering department of the University of Michigan, was the speaker at the Kiwanis meeting Wednesday noon. He took for his subject "The Auto Industry."

Prof. Nicholson said that this industry was the second greatest in the country and was only outclassed by the steel industry. The first car made in the United States was made by the Haynes company at Kokomo, Ind., in 1894, and this car is now at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. He said that there were 125 different makes of automobiles; that there were twelve and a half millions registered in the world and that of these ten and a half millions were registered in the United States. In 1903 Henry Ford made at his Highland Park plant a little over 1,000 cars, and in 1921 he turned out over a million; that 20 per cent of our crude oil is made into gasoline. He told of the maintenance, how to operate and get the best service of any make of car.

WOODRUFF SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHERS

"The birds are our best friends and we give them the least care and thought," said Prof. Goddard, of the Normal college, at the Woodruff School Parent-Teachers' club meeting Monday night. Miss Goddard quoted figures to prove the enormous quantity of harmful beetles and larvae that the birds consume in one day. "The states of Texas and Pennsylvania, not realizing this, put a bounty on hawks and owls and found their annual loss from rodents jump into millions of dollars the very first year," stated Miss Goddard. Prof. Goddard thinks that it is a good thing that there is one season of the year—spring—that people are led by the surroundings to call to mind the wonderfulness of nature. She proposed during the lecture that cats be licensed the same as dogs, to prevent the menace to the birds of the stray cat. The idea found approval with many of those present. The lecture was illustrated by beautiful slides of bird life and proved to be most interesting and helpful.

The business meeting, which preceded the program, brought out one of the most heated discussions of the year. The meeting was not willing to adopt the recommendations of the nominating committee, and a most interesting debate followed the naming of nominees from the floor.

The officers elected were: President, Matthew Max; vice-president, Mrs. Iba Bassett; secretary and treasurer, Miss Lucia Densmore; second vice-president, Ernest Maddux. The delegates to represent this club at the state convention of parent-teachers' clubs at Pt. Huron this week are Mrs. Arthur Corbelle and Mrs. Chester Kelly.

Miss Sattler gave two splendid selections on the piano and Janet Vyler, of the school, rendered a very pleasing solo. Before the program and during the serving of refreshments the club listened to a delightful radiophone concert from Detroit. About 100 were present.

SPEEDER PAYS $25 FINE.

Barnet Dalitz, of Detroit, pleaded guilty before Justice Stadtmiller on Tuesday to exceeding the speed limit. Chief of Police Connors, who made the arrest, says Dalitz was going 30 miles an hour on Michigan avenue. Dalitz paid a fine of $25.

CUTOUT OPEN COST $5.

John Shafer, of Ann Arbor, pleaded guilty Monday before Justice Stadtmiller to running his automobile within the city limits with the cutout open. He paid a fine of $5. Chief of Police Connors, who made the arrest, recommended leniency on account of the boy supporting his mother.

MISS ACKERMAN PEASE AUDITORIUM

YPSILANTI'S BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN
HEAR HER LECTURE ON
"A NEW WORLD."

Miss Jessie Ackerman, member of the Fellow Royal Scottish Geographical society, spoke Thursday night at Pease auditorium under the auspices of the Ypsilanti Business and Professional Women's club. Her subject was "A New World." She said:

"The opium question in this country is much worse than the liquor question ever was. England through her greed enslaved the Chinese with her opium trade. Later England was forced by the women to pass a law prohibiting the sale of opium to China. Now the Japanese have secured the opium control and are now planning to send eight tons a year to the United States. Japan has bought the opium monopoly. We must fight to save ourselves. The churches and every organization for good must join in the crusade against it. There is a bill now before congress that has been kicked about and apparently nothing is being done about the matter. When the opium law was passed prohibiting England from selling to China the merchants were given 10 years to dispose of their stock. The merchants asked for more time but the Chinese government bought what was left, amounting to $14,000,000 worth, and then set fire to the stuff and burned it. In all ages in the past the individual representing 85 per cent has been the same. Now the 85 per cent have taken a step upward. The only way to progress is through revolution. We had to revolute to get our freedom. No nation in the world can create a civilization for Russia or any other nation. The czar of Russia in the past was a tyrant and the common people are trying to build on the wreckage he held. I predict that in less than 50 years Russia will have a government as good as any and that will lead them on to better things. It is up to the nations of the world to give them a chance. The world is getting tired of uplifting. People ought to be given a chance to uplift themselves. Woman is the reserve force of the Lord and He has called out the reserves. During the past world war 28,000,000 of men were killed or disabled, and women have been called in to take their places. Business is a vital part of the world. There are great possibilities ahead of us. Some of these men who are criticizing the dress of women should remember that the first citizens of this country were men and they wore short pants and long hair. I recently told a man who said women were not fit to vote on account of wearing short dresses that he should look at their heads and not at their legs for evidence to qualify them to vote. If women all dressed alike we would be all bunched together like onions and sold for so much a bunch. We must have individuality and variation in our dress. In 12 states that are trying to legislate against short dresses three of the states have no law prohibiting child labor or a compulsory school law. You can not kill the romance or sentiment in women; neither can you kill their religion. A large majority of men go to church by proxy. They send their wives to church and their children to Sunday school. All the religion we profess and don't live is junk and should be scrapped."

The Rotary club octette sang a group of songs before the lecture. Hugh E. Van de Walker, who introduced Miss Ackerman, told of the good work being done by the local club and of a booster campaign for Ypsilanti that they have on now. He told of the starting of a club in Birmingham recently by the local organization.

TWO SPEEDERS PAY FINES OF $25.00 EACH

Wednesday two speeders were arrested by Chief Connors. One, Russel Gilbert, of Jackson, came down Washington street at a 30-mile clip. The chief thought this a little fast and he was taken before Justice Stadtmiller and paid a fine of $25.

Charles Baker, of Gary, Ind., tried a little Hoosier speeding on Michigan avenue, and when he had reached 30 miles, and going strong, he, too, was asked to visit the justice and paid $25 for his burst of speed.

It is no use, fellows, you have got to be good when you pass through Ypsilanti. The city didn't buy that speed boat for the chief just to look at.

MILK AND VITAMINES

The subject of vitamins, like wireless communication, is absorbing more and more the current attention of the people. Like electricity, the vitamin is difficult to define, yet we know positively of its existence and of its transcendent importance in promoting and conserving health and life.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley will be remembered as the man who put up the big fight in the Federal Government to prevent unscrupulous producers of so-called foods from adulterating and devitalizing food and poisoning the people. These powerful interests are credited with finally getting him removed from office. He was then given complete freedom to reach the people through the magazine, "Good Housekeeping." He has, ever since maintained a department in that magazine and in the May issue has also a special article entitled "Have You Had Your Vitamins?" You should read this article, and the table giving vitamin values in a considerable number of foods should, as he suggests, be pasted in your cook book. Dr. Wiley says in this article: "It has been demonstrated that food products devoid of vitamins are incapable of digestion and assimilation by the human body. A distinct and easily recognizable disease follows the use of certain vitamin-free foods. It was called beriberi in the Orient where first recognized and now generally designated under the name of polynuritis. It is a progressive paralysis of the nervous system attended with various other disorders of the body resulting in coma and death."

Whole milk has long been recognized as the leading vitamin food containing all of the vitamins and in more digestible form than any other food. The authorities seem pretty much agreed that heat diminishes and often destroys the vitamins. Fresh, whole milk, then, known to be dependably free from contamination and disease, is coming at last to be recognized as in a class by itself in the human dietary.

Wuerth Theatre

For the seeker after something different in the realm of the photoplay the management of the Wuerth theatre has something special to offer next Wednesday and Thursday, when there will be presented the thrilling heart interest photodrama, "Why Girls Leave Home." Although the theme and title of the production are from the great American stage success of the same name which thrilled theatre goers a generation ago, the Warner Brothers, who present the picture, claim that there is not a bit of audlin melodrama in the entire story. One prominent reviewer has stated that the production struck him as "a blend of 'Way Down East' and 'Hunchback,' although the picture itself resembles neither of the two productions mentioned.

The scenario, theme, production and cast are all of the very best. Anna Q. Nilsson has the stellar role and she is supported by Maurine Powers, Corinne Barker, Dan Mason, George Lessey, Claude King, Katherine Perry and others of note. The story deals with every home in general but for the sake of clarity presents two specific instances. One, the home of a rich merchant, who indulges his daughter's every whim. The other, the home of the rich man's employee, who represses in his daughter every youthful instinct. The result is that both girls leave home and attempt to fight the battles of life alone. Later their paths cross and together they work out their own destiny in a manner which is at one time of compelling interest and at the same time true to life.

Elaborately staged and skilfully directed by Wm. S. Night under the supervision of Harry Rapp, the management of the Wuerth theatre feels confident that "Why Girls Leave Home" will prove to be one of the most satisfying and entertaining photoplays they have yet offered to the people of Ypsilanti.

Nelson Transient Radio Receiving Station entertainment at the Wuerth next Friday will be given in addition to the regular program, and will give you a very good idea as to what to expect in the near future in the way of radio entertainment. There is a special reel showing just how the broadcasting apparatus works and how the vibrations are picked up and voiced by the loud speakers. In the evening the Detroit concert and all they have to offer will be followed by this wonderful reel of film, showing every point of interest in the get-up of a receiving and broadcasting outfit. This will be followed by concerts from east and west, Pittsburgh and Chicago, and as a matter of information we might add this is the first traveling outfit ever equipped to offer an exhibition of this kind. There is little doubt that radio broadcasting is here to stay, and before many years it will be utilized in as many as five million homes, for it will come to play a part in our lives equalled only by the daily and weekly periodicals. Like the moving picture industry, it will need to grow from a crude infancy into something greater and grander than is at present possible; its applications may even surpass in their scope the wonders of the motion picture as we know it today.

TUTTLE HILL

The Tuttle Hill Birthday club held a very pleasant meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Draper Friday evening. No business of importance was transacted. Miss Una Austin was in charge of the supper and Tom Ceilinski gave the club birthday gifts. Mrs. Claude Gotts delighted the company with several piano selections and Mrs. P. W. Moore gave a reading. The June meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Austin.

Mrs. Christian Becker, of North Prospect street, Ypsilanti, who was buried from the Lutheran church Thursday, was formerly a resident here, living for several years on the King farm, now owned by M. M. Reed, the little girls attending Tuttle school. She was a quiet little woman, always busy looking after the needs of her family; was highly respected by all who knew her. The family have the sympathy of all in this community.

Nelson Boutell was home from the M. A. C. over the week-end. Mrs. Arthur Cross, of West Branch, an old resident of this place, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Dan O'Brien and Sunday night with Mrs. J. C. Tuttle. She is in Ann Arbor for treatment.

The farmers are busy. The old promise, "Seed time and harvest shall not fail," is being fulfilled as to the first clause, and as we have always had a harvest our faith is firmer as to the second clause. The great American Farmer is on the job to feed the world. Surely this wonderful United States of America is a land of promise. When we recall the many times in the past that food from our farms has been sent overseas to feed the starving in famine-stricken lands we realize that promise has been kept and we have no fears for the future. Just now the oats and grass seed have been sown and early garden stuff is coming on nicely and the farmers are very busy getting the corn ground ready. Fruit trees are full of bloom and the bees are busy at their harvest. The farmers' wives are on the job with setting hens, small chickens and house cleaning. It's a good old world after all, isn't it?

James Holmes is in very poor health.

Mrs. Alonzo Austin and Miss Una Austin visited Roy Austin and family Monday.

Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. George Fuller attended the funeral of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Russ in Ypsilanti.

Rev. and Mrs. Bailey and children, of Adrian, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lord Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Bailey is a sister of Mrs. Charles Mott, wife of a former pastor here, who is now stationed at Berkeley, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Downer and children were among the guests at a birthday dinner given in honor of Mrs. Avery Downer at the home of her son, Philo Downer, of Geddes.

Mrs. Ella Kelly entertained at supper Thursday for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Youngs.

The annual meeting of the Union Cemetery association was held at the Tuttle schoolhouse Monday evening. Reports were given by the treasurer and sexton. Claude Gotts and Roy Sherman were elected to the board of directors. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, W. H. Boutell; vice-president, Charles Campbell; secretary, W. E. Gotts; treasurer, Wallace Draper. May 27 will be clean-up day at the cemetery and everyone interested is urgently requested to be present at that time. There is plenty to be done in the way of cleaning up and a full attendance is urged.

Quarterly meeting brought friends from Adrian, Rollin, Raisin Center, Tecumseh, Ann Arbor and several other places in this quarter to Friends church Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The session opened with the meeting of ministry and oversight Friday afternoon and with two sessions Saturday and two Sunday. The days were full. Dinner was served to 200 persons on each of the two days by the members of the missionary society. Sunday afternoon Miss Evangeline Reams gave a thrilling talk on the work at the Rescue home in Columbus. She told of the splendid things being led by many who were converted while at the home. Miss Reams started the work with $5 in money and unbounded faith in God and never once has any need failed to be met. Her life has been threatened by men whose nefarious plans she has thwarted, but she is absolutely without fear and has simply sent an answer that God was more powerful than man and she was not afraid. May she be spared many more years to carry on her splendid work.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gorton entertained from Friday to Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. John Barlow and daughter, Mr. Harris and Miss Harris, all of Rollin, and Mrs. Robert Fell, of Belleville, who were here to attend quarterly meeting at Friends church.

Stanley Samonik, of Detroit, called on Adam Filant Saturday.

Mrs. Roy Dolby is still confined to the bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Britton entertained at dinner Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. John Lamb and Howard and Hazel Lamb and Mrs. Libbie Lamb, of Saline.

Robert Downer, of the Huron farms, and Wm. Underdown, of Ann Arbor, also of the Huron farms force, were Detroit business visitors Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Russell and children called on Mr. and Mrs. Will Alban and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Herbert, of Ypsilanti, Sunday.

Mrs. J. D. Rust entertained Miss May Wright, teacher of the Rawsonville school, at supper Friday night.

John Graves has a new Overland. Mrs. Helen Kelly is home from Ypsilanti, where he has been spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Annie Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Humphrey, of Ypsilanti, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lord.

Fordson TRACTOR

"Yes I've more Time for Myself Since I Got a Fordson"

The Fordson Tractor is taking much of the drudgery out of farm life; it is solving the labor problem; it is reducing the cost of preparing land by almost one half of what it was with horses; and it is saving one third to one half of the farmer's time; and making farm life more attractive.

The Fordson will run your threshing machine—and at the most opportune time for you. It will operate the milking machines, saw your wood, fill your silo, pump the water, and take care of every kind of belt work—And don't forget—it will plow six to eight acres in a ten hour day, handling two plows with ease.

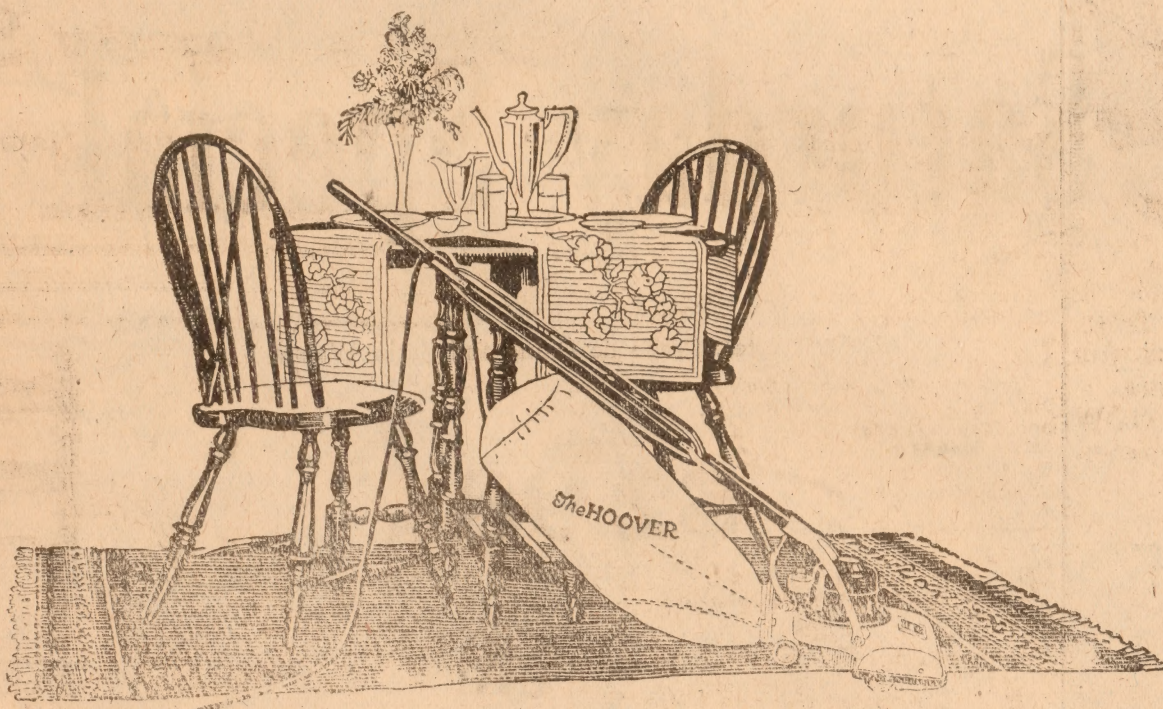

Thus the Fordson is the ideal year-round tractor. It will pay for its fall and winter keep in many ways.

There's a big story to tell you about the Fordson—and a true one—come in and get the facts. Or, if you prefer, telephone or drop us a card and we will bring them to you.

WHY YOU SHOULD USE A MILD SOAP

Harsh soap dries the natural oil, and is apt to irritate the skin and make it scaly.

In the mild, soothing, creamy lather of Palmolive you have an ideal cleanser. It is lotion-like in its action. It soothes while it cleanses.

Artful applications of rouge and powder may lend your skin the appearance of smooth freshness, but when this is washed off, what a cruel revelation!

You can easily possess a fine complexion by giving your skin proper care. Instead of putting your skin to sleep with cold creams and cosmetics, wake it up with soap and water. Cleanse each tiny pore and skin cell, revive sluggish circulation. Get rid of the blackheads which are only accumulated dirt.

Use Palmolive Soap and apply it with your two hands. Massage it thoroughly into your skin and remove with many warm rinsings. This treatment makes your skin fresh as a rose.

You can buy Palmolive Soap at all first class groceries and drug stores.

Sesamum is a name given to a genus of about twelve species of Indian or African herbs. The bland fixed oil obtained from them keeps well and is used both as food and cosmetic. The oil cake, mixed with honey and preserved citron, is a popular delicacy in India. In 1921 the sesamum yield in India was 472,000 tons.

"Mother, do you honestly want me to marry Marc?" she asked, trembling.

Mrs. Robertson caught at the outflung hand.

"I do, I do indeed, darling," she answered. "And he'll ask you too, I'm sure. Perhaps not today or tomorrow, for he's just renewing his acquaintance with you. By the way he looked last night I could tell he was considering it."

A handkerchief dropped from Evelyn's fingers, and she stooped to pick it up.

"If I lead Marcus on," she suggested, rising, "and—and get him to ask me to marry him, will you give me any sum of money I want?"

Her voice shook with emotion, and her young face seemed suddenly old and haggard. Mrs. Robertson had never seen her daughter in such a state.

"Sit down a minute, Evelyn," she commanded. "Now tell me what you want money for. I know very well that you haven't spent what I've allowed you upon yourself. That's why I've refused you so much lately. No more secrets or mystery! I want the facts. Now tell me this minute."

The girl dropped into a chair and buried her face in her hands.

"I can't," she whispered.

For some time she remained in the same attitude, while her mother studied her silently. At length the girl lifted herself erect.

"I can't explain," she broke out, "and I suppose you're thinking all kinds of things. I can't help it if you do. You'll have to give me the money I need, if you want me to marry Marc. There's no 'ifs' and 'ands' about that. If you'll give me the money"—she faltered, wiped her lips and concluded slowly, "I'll marry Marcus MacKenzie."

"You must be crazy, Eve," Mrs. Robertson said in a cold voice, "to talk to me like that. If you have any secrets from me, it's time you told them."

"Well?" shot from Evelyn sharply. "suppose I have? It's my secret, isn't it? Are you going to help me or not, that's the question."

It was evident to Mrs. Robertson that the situation was not to be trifled with. In a twinkling her daughter had changed from a meek and timid girl to an aggressive woman. To try to bully her any more would be a mere waste of effort.

"Heavens," she began, "this is a pretty how to do, I must say. I can't imagine why you should want money. It doesn't make much difference, anyway. There are more reasons than one why you can't get it from me."

"What are they?" fell from the girl's lips.

"The first is," returned the mother, tartly, "I don't like being held up in this high-handed manner by my own daughter."

She paused; and Evelyn caught her breath. If that were all, she would row and rage until she got what she wanted.

Mother and daughter were staring at one another, each demanding an explanation. Evelyn did not intend to make any! Mrs. Robertson weakened before the steely-blue in the girl's eyes.

"But the main reason is," she went on, "I haven't got it. I don't own this house, nor—"

Evelyn sprang to her feet and confronted her mother. Her face was drawn into cruel lines, and her hands were gripped spasmodically.

"You lie," she burst forth. "You've always lied to me about money."

A bitter smile drew down the corners of the older woman's mouth. She knew how true the accusation was.

"Well, this time," she answered, "I'm telling you the simple truth. I not only do not own this house, but—"

"Then who does own it?" interjected the girl.

"Your cousin, Robert Percival," was the quick response; "and he's supplied all the money we have used. Now perhaps you won't try to get something out of me I haven't got."

"Mother!" cried the girl, in agony. "I told you, Eve, that you should know the truth," Mrs. Robertson continued. "You've asked for it, and here it is. When Robert's father and mother died, I came here to take care of him. I had nothing then and have nothing now. You were only a baby, and I've always kept the facts from you. When Robert went to war, he arranged that if he didn't come back, I should have the home and enough money to keep us."

Evelyn's eyes widened. Of a surety this was the truth.

"Then we aren't rich?" she demanded huskily.

"No, that we're not!" responded the lady, "and what's more, we are dependent upon Robert for everything."

With a quick gesture Evelyn caught her mother's arm, despair changing the lines on her face.

"Oh, you needn't be so theatrical, my dear," said the woman. "Robert's never given me the slightest reason to feel he thought us a burden. I'm quite like his mother, as I should be. The only thing necessary is that you should feather your own nest before Bob makes up his mind to get married. I know very well you've turned down many a young man in Ithaca. Now your chance has come. Marc MacKenzie's rich. He loves you—"

Without waiting to hear anything more, Evelyn ran out of the room. Mrs. Robertson sank back with a sigh, partly of relief that at last Evelyn knew just the situation they were in, partly of anxiety as to her daughter's secret.

CHAPTER III.

As she ran, Polly Hopkins cogitated on MacKenzie's words. Evelyn's mother had said that she was as odd as she was filthy.

Mrs. Robertson! The arrogant woman who lived on the hill in a house almost big enough to hold every person in the Silent City ought not to say anything against the squatters. If the grand lady only knew it, her own daughter had stooped to a trick such as would put to shame any hut-woman. A squatter wife would not leave her man to do for himself or deny him before the world. Added to Polly's personal humiliation was MacKenzie's threat against Daddy Hopkins.

The hope Robert Percival's words had instilled in her seemed to die as she traveled, and her heart beat with fear, for should Old Marc get his fingers on Daddy Hopkins, Polly had no doubt there would be nothing but imprisonment for her and Jerry. She could not think of life without her father. Not a single night had she ever been away from his kindly love and attention—and Wee Jerry! A vivid picture rose before her of the baby's grief if he could not straddle daddy's neck and play his father was a horse.

When she reached the top of the ragged rocks, she pulled up and cast a glance out over the lake. The calling of her name made her turn swiftly. Recognizing Evelyn Robertson's voice, she waited while the other girl came down the path from MacKenzie's woods. She was quite unlike the little squatter. A fashionable raincoat protected her from the wet; and she carried a light umbrella in her gloved hand. The greeting between them was one of embarrassment.

"I were going to find my daddy," Polly explained. "He's somewhere along the lake. I didn't know I'd come on you this mornin'."

The memory of Mrs. Robertson's words brought a rush of color to her face, and she looked down at her feet. There surged up in her a feeling that she did not want anything to do with any of these people. Why should she? They were rich; and she was only a squatter brat! She started to walk away.

"I said," she flung over her shoulder, "I were lookin' for my daddy. Good-by."

Evelyn Robertson was not interested in Jeremiah Hopkins. As far as she was concerned, the whole Silent City might be washed off into the waves and carried away. Her own troubles filled her mind. The shock of her mother's disclosure stunned her, for without the help she had expected, she could see no way out of Oscar Bennett's clutches. In the meantime, the squatter girl was her only means of communication.

"Wait, Pollyop, wait a minute! I came down just to speak to you."

Wheeling slowly around, Polly faced her.

"What do you want?" she asked in surly tones.

"Pollyop," ejaculated Evelyn, coming swiftly to her side, "I'm almost scared to death. My cousin, Bob—oh, you've got to help me again!"

Bob! Then the soldier in the uniform was Evelyn's cousin. Bob! That was the nicest name in all the world, a name fitted for the man who had dropped into the Silent City to help along the squatters. Suddenly her mood changed. She forgot Oscar Bennett and his odious words, forgot that the girl crying for her aid had allowed her mother to say dreadful things against her and Daddy Hopkins. If Evelyn were related to the soldier, then Polly Hopkins would do anything Miss Robertson asked of her.

"What do you want?" she repeated shyly, blushing.

"It's this," answered Evelyn. "Mr. MacKenzie's home—and my cousin came with him. My cousin, Robert Percival!"

"Your cousin a handsome feller with long legs an' a face—"

Pollyop stopped for lack of words.

"Tell Oscar I haven't any money! I just can't get it now! And Pollyop, Tell Him Too That He Mustn't Write Me Any More Letters."

How could she describe the fine, sympathetic countenance she had seen from the hut roof?

"Yes," Evelyn interjected. "Bob's awfully good-looking, and he's tall too. Now listen, Pollyop; you must go to Oscar again for me this very day—Oh, dear, he's so mean to me!"

Polly considered the pretty face a moment. She could not understand why the home-coming of the cousin and Old Marc should make Evelyn so flustered. With her steady eyes upon her she was studying over this question when Evelyn burst forth:
